

Shell. Wildlife champion?

Shell in Nigeria: devastation after an oil spill and fire

Shell Wildlife Photographer of the Year

Public Meeting exploring Shell's impact on wildlife, the environment and people

At Imperial College. 17 October 2006. 6:30pm.

Shell is the new sponsor of the Wildlife Photographer of the Year award. Shell's operations have devastating impacts on wildlife, the environment and people. Yet it is cheaper and easier for Shell to promote a green image through sponsorship of prestigious events, than it is for it to properly address these impacts.

Speakers from communities impacted by Shell's operations in Durban, South Africa; Nigeria; Sakhalin Island, Russia; and County Mayo, Ireland, will talk about their experience of living with Shell and their thoughts on Shell's sponsorship of the competition. Followed by debate about the sponsorship.

With an exhibition by Rising Tide

Friends of the Earth

Free entry. Free wine!

Where: Imperial College, Lecture Theatre 208, Skempton Building, Imperial College Road SW7

For more information visit: www.foe.co.uk/shell

Tel: 020 7490 1555 Email: info@foe.co.uk